The Fort Scott Area Community Foundation Futures - Volume 2 - Edition 4 - August 2012

Local book proceeds go to FSACF

Judy Marshall, local resident and award-winning writer, joined the July 23, 2012, meeting of the Fort Scott Area Community Foundation Board of Directors to share information about her recently published book and her plans to donate its profits to the foundation.

For her latest book, Legends & Lore of Bourbon County, Judy interviewed many local residents to gain details about fascinating stories in and around Fort Scott. She researched each legend and considers her depiction to be very close to the truth -- if not entirely factual.

Marshall is the winner of a Kansas City

Star-sponsored writing contest, as well as recognized as the statewide winner of short story fiction competitions sponsored by the North Carolina Writers' Network and the North Carolina Arts Council.

Judy and her husband, Bob, have lived in the Fort Scott area since 1998. They have three children and six grandchildren.

Copies of Legends & Lore of Bourbon County may be purchased for $15 each by contacting Judy at 620 223-3516 or by email at Judy.Marshall@cebridge.net.

FSACF is very grateful to Marshall for her kind contribution of the book's proceeds

New board members welcomed

The Fort Scott Area Community Foundation welcomed new board members to its Board of Directors at its Annual Meeting on July 23, 2012. John Bartelsmeyer, Steve Buerge, Lindsay Madison, Dave Martin and Randy Nichols were officially added to the board for upcoming terms. Board members serve three-year terms and bring various areas of expertise to the foundation. Chairperson Janet Braun said, "We are excited to have the new board members join us. We are looking forward to making use of their insight and experience."

As the new board members were being welcomed, other board members rotated off the board. Susan Brown, John Hill, John Horn and Rick Werling completed their terms of service for the foundation. "We are so grateful for the past board members' time on the board and the work they contributed. Susan, John, John and Rick will continue to serve as Ambassadors -- and from time to time we will certainly consult them for their input!" commented Braun.

Grant cycle open

The Fort Scott Area Community Foundation is proud to announce that 2012 Grant Applications were released on August 1. Applications are available by download at www.FSACF.com, by email by contacting Carol at carolmacarthur46@gmail.com or for pick up at the Fort Scott Area Chamber of Commerce, 231 E. Wall.

FSACF Granting Chairperson Carol MacArthur said, "We are so happy to be able to help fund projects for charitable organizations in the Fort Scott area." The FSACF has awarded over $20,000 to area groups and organizations over the past three years and is excited to be involved in yet another granting cycle for the good of the community.

Applications are due on September 1 at noon. Grants will be awarded at the Foundation's Chamber Coffee held at Citizens Bank on Thursday, November 1.
